PARTNERS FOR JUSTICE

Goal:
To reduce violence against women and girls (VWAG) in Lebanon by transforming attitudes of women, girls, men, boys, communities, organizations, and societal norms that maintain violence against women and girls.

Project Outcome:
The production of five films and two educational mini-segments, which will be disseminated and distributed to relevant communities for the second. These communities are present in the following locations: Aarsal, Ras Baalbek, Al Harime, Khiara, and Ghazze in West Bekaa. Shooting of “Ihtiria’” film. A total of 143 participants (65 men and 78 women). Each FGD included around 8 participants.

1. “La Sharaf” talks about toxic vs. equitable masculinities.
2. “Warde” talks about breaking the cycle of violence.
3. “Ilham” talks about violence against women and girls.
4. “Ihtira’” talks about violence against women and girls.
5. “I’ve leveraged a lot from the information provided in this training since it’s relevant to my job, as I’m working in a community setting about violence against women and girls.”

Youth leaders from the Diyarouna CSO in the South of Lebanon presenting a video illustrating cervical cancer awareness and prevention services will be increased.

Supportive Focus Groups and Program Models-UNICEF

The first round of Focus Group Discussions (FGDs) targeted 250 community members from locations with high water-related conflict issues including: Deir El Ahmar, Iaat, Ras Baalbek, Al Harime, Khiara, and Ghazze in West Bekaa. In order to broaden the study’s reach in both target areas and ensure a comprehensive dataset through the second round of FGDs, the team included additional communities for the second. The number of people and communities increased for the second round of FGDs.

Shooting of “Ilham” film.

Youth leaders from the Diyarouna CSO in the South of Lebanon presenting a video illustrating cervical cancer awareness and prevention services will be increased.

In order to broaden the study’s reach in both target areas and ensure a comprehensive dataset through the second round of FGDs, the team included additional communities for the second. The number of people and communities increased for the second round of FGDs.

TOWARDS A GENDER EQUITABLE SOCIETY

Goal:
To give lively insight into realistic perspectives on water-related issues to enhance collection understanding of these issues, through conducting an under-conflict resolution programs to lead, address, and develop participatory planning that can and should accompany future WASH interventions.

Youth from the Ecumenical Development Advocates Network (EDAN) developed in partnership with The National Commission for Disability Advocates Network (DCAN) delivered in-person training on the second edition of Programs for girls to youth, men, and females; across three different communities in Lebanon, including the North, South and Bekaa. This project training focused on gender, mobilization, and sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) related topics including but not limited to: sex in gender, gender and association, gender roles, and gender gender equality (GGE) (SRHR).

Youth leaders from the Diyarouna CSO in the South of Lebanon presenting a video illustrating cervical cancer awareness and prevention services will be increased.

Youth leaders from the Diyarouna CSO in the South of Lebanon presenting a video illustrating cervical cancer awareness and prevention services will be increased.

Youth from the Ecumenical Development Advocates Network (EDAN) developed in partnership with The National Commission for Disability Advocates Network (DCAN) delivered in-person training on the second edition of Programs for girls to youth, men, and females; across three different communities in Lebanon, including the North, South and Bekaa. This project training focused on gender, mobilization, and sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) related topics including but not limited to: sex in gender, gender and association, gender roles, and gender gender equality (GGE) (SRHR).

Youth from the Ecumenical Development Advocates Network (EDAN) developed in partnership with The National Commission for Disability Advocates Network (DCAN) delivered in-person training on the second edition of Programs for girls to youth, men, and females; across three different communities in Lebanon, including the North, South and Bekaa. This project training focused on gender, mobilization, and sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) related topics including but not limited to: sex in gender, gender and association, gender roles, and gender gender equality (GGE) (SRHR).